Dedication

ARTHUR QUADRACCIA

To Arthur Quadraccia, music supervisor and senior class sponsor, we would like to dedicate this, our 1955 edition of the Glahisean. Mr. Quadraccia, better known to most of us as "Quad," has for the past several years worked very hard with the band and glee clubs. We have often forgotten to thank him for the countless things he has done for us, but we hope with this dedication we can make up for all the little things that have gone by unnoticed.

Mr. Kurka's Assistants

These senior boys, because of their ability, coc peration, and willingness to work, have been selected to instruct the underclassmen in gym. They are under the direction of Mr. Kurka. Much credit should be given because the assistant instructors have given up their own time to do this. They make possible better and more detailed instruction in gym.

Standing: E. Brooks, J. Bittner, R. Jakubek, C. Zaleski, J. McCullough, Mr. Kurka.
Sitting: T. Mordecki, H. Bonadio, B. Kaltenbaugh, B. Baur, C. Kastan, J. Jewart.

Mrs. Garden's Helpers

Here is an energetic group of senior girls who were willing to give up their study periods to lend a hand in supervising the gym periods of the underclassmen. Some of their duties were refereeing basketball games, volleyball games, and demonstrating the various exercises.

Third Row: V. Majzer, M. Dworek, N. Sample.
Second Row: P. Ercole, S. Amore, M. Ross, M. Laird, C. Pavol.

Projectionists

The projector operators were a great aid to the school this year and were appreciated by everycne in the school. They ran the movie projectors, both in the classroom and in assemblies, tock care cf reccrds at dances, and ran the tape recorder.

Under the direction cf Mr. Jchn Roberts they are learning new skills and at the same time furthering the audio-visual program of the school.

Second row: J. McCullough, E. Brooks, R. Jakubek, Mr. Roberts.
Firs? row: T. Hoberg, J. Jewart, D. Davis.

Second row: R. Walters, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Salzmann, J. McCullough.
First row: P. Tiberi, C. Spallone, A. Wilks.

Stagecrew

Under the able direction of Mr. Arthur Salzman and Mr. John Robinson, an excellent job was done by our stagecrew this year. Though these behind the scene workers may not be appreciated by many, they are of great importance in the assemblies. These boys set up scenery, work the lights and curtains, and make sure everything is running smoothly. They are truly the unacknowledged men behind the success of activities in the auditorium.

Musical Magic

Our magic orchestra strikes a downbeat, the mist clears, and the future of the Class of "55" is in view.

The first vision that appears is of the plush cafe of "Gare du Nord" in Paris, France. Outside the cafe we hear the lilting strains of the internationally known "Moonmaids and Moonmen", under the direction of Joe Pociask. The Moonmaids are: Jolene Domerat, Geri Svatz, and Rita Mae Pasinski and the Moonmen are: Jim Mort, Arthur Wilks, and Frank Martinko. As we enter, our hats are taken by Helen Nolfi and Mary Tarli. The very attractive cigarette girls are Audrey Uhlig and Deanna Yacavace. We are greeted by Jack Smart, manager of the "Gare du Nord", who informs us the owner of the cafe is Paul Fulmer, another graduate of "55". The head garcon, Gary Cole, leads us to our table and serves us cocktails.

We arrived just in time for the floor show. The curtain goes up and in the spotlight we see Bill Kaltenbaugh as the Master of Ceremonies. He introduces the famous Metropolitan Opera Singer, Donna Kapphan, who has just finished her European tour and is returning to fill an engagement at the Latin Quarter in New York. Next Bill introduces the current Bobby-Sox rage, "The Three Glads", Mike Faychak, Jack Takaht, and Jimmy Nolfi. The third act is the "Geneva Holstein Dancers", Marion Ross, Ruth Witkowski, Sandra Amore, and Lela Gill. Topping off the evening performance, Bill introduces the world famous pantomime artist, Fred Spicer, doing his standard Eddie Fisher version of "Oh Mein Papa."

As this enjoyable evening comes to a conclusion the vision fades, the orchestra strikes another note, and our hotel comes in view. The Virtes Hotel, owned by Ronald Virtes, and managed by Kennard Gumbert, will be our castle for the night. The bell boy, Darwin West, takes our bags.

The morning dawns and our breakfast is served in the Breakfast Room by Rose Marie Adamick, Catherine Pavol, and Peggy Finney.

After leaving the hotel, our wishes to visit a famous Paris Fashion Show are fulfilled. Upon entering the K & L Fashion Salon, we are seated by the famous designers, Barbara Kader and Marsha Laird. Their original designs are modeled by Margie Price, Nancy Kuder, and Delight Scklan. The advertising is done by the famous commercial artist, Mary Lou Williams.

Next we visit a Paris Research Clinic. We see many nurses in the Timko Clinic, named after the research chemist, Mike Timko, from the Class of "55". Supervising the nurses is Jean Fabry. Under her direction are Marlyn Bartels, Lavina Randolph, Patty Dannenhauer, and Mildred Ditter. The famous woman doctor, Pat Ercole is seen talking to the receptionist, Stella Gniazdowski. The head chemist is Jack Cavanaugh and under his supervision are Bob Bratton, Jerry Bittner, and Jack Jewart.

As our informative day ends, this vision fades and we see a ship. The gang plank is lowered by two members of the crew, Frank Merta and Tony Mordecki. The Captain of the ship is Ronald Kendal and his able assistants are First Mate, Carl Kastan; Second Mate, Earl West; and other members of the crew are Martin Konowalski, Dan Siudela, Paul Deppenbrook, and Arnold Papernick. As we relax on our deck chairs we learn that our hostess for this trip is Judy Kass, who has planned enjoyable recreation for us. We are served lunch on the deck by the head waitress Helen Tudek and her co-workers Frances Panyzal, and Agnes Pasinski, under the guiding hand of the world famous Chef of Parisian foods, Phil Dunst, who has prepared our tasty lunch. In the stateroom we see Peggy McHolme, surrounded by French students. She is teaching them our American way of living. Aileen Ginevan was also on board teaching French History.

A steward brings us the International Newspaper, stating that the following are participating in this year's Olympics, Bob Sherman, Bill McKee, and Bernie Baur, whose names are inscribed in the Sports Hall Of Fame. Looking on the girls' sports side, we see members of the Girls' Athletic Association—Annette Tudek, Agnes Jakubek, and Vicky Majzer are gaining fame at the Olympics. This article was written by the International News Correspondent, Bob Shelby.

At the close of another exciting day, we are out to see a dramatic presentation, directed by Frances Tiskiewic, and starring Helen Conomos and Russ Walters. Behind the curtain we see Carol Trunzo and Mary Lou Kapphan rehearsing for their part in the musical "One Week In Paris" in which they do several dance numbers. We are surprised to see that Jack Victor and Henry Bonadio have formed a twosome and are starring in the same musical as modern dance artists. Susan Kerber is the manager of the scenery for the production, while Marlene James and Balbina Kuzio are the make-up artists. Nancy Corridon does the hair styling. We leave the theatre to spend a few hours at the wrestling matches, to find Carl Zaleski matched against Jack McCullough. After this thrilling spectacle we go to Carl's dressing room. There we are greeted by his manager, Rodney Gill and find out that Red's manager is Harry Wisser, another graduate of "55". We spend a short time here and are off to the exquisite Klein-DeCarlo Men's Shop of which Stanton Klein and Joe DeCarlo are the proprietors. Under their employment we find Cassie Heckert and Rosemarie Intrieri as the chief bookkeepers. Here to show us the latest in men's clothing is Jack Katchmark and Don Phillips. Leaving the shop we come upon the gymnasium where we see Timmy Lokash and his head coach, Dick Muse, working out for Tim's champion boxing match which will go on within a few weeks. Angelo Demis is the director of the scholastic division.

On the feminine side we discover Doris Howder, Doris Slafka, and Shirley Yesensky practicing their aquacade in which they do a trio number. Champion diver, Beverly Hayes, will appear as a special guest. Leaving the gym we travel next to the radio station, K.R.V., of which Alvin Schmotzer is the top sports announcer with Regis Jakubek and Ernie Brooks as the newscasters. As we wander through the station, we hear familiar voices belonging to Judy Jones and Maria Orlando. They have their own radio program called "True Life In Paris." Between acts they are announcing the "Vach-Galeza" Bridal Shop, since this is their sponsor. We are delighted to hear that Martha Vach and Patty Galeza have formed an elaborate shop, showing with excellent taste, the newest Parisian bridal gowns. Pat and Martha tell us that they have chosen Al LoBue, as the head manager and buyer. Glenda Trumpe, no doubt, with her winning smile, will attract many a customer as she is his private secretary.

A few hours later we drive to the open-house party Lucille Aubrecht is having at her elaborate home, honoring the comedians, Nancy Sample and Jack Palmer with Jack's singing star, Bernard Dworek. At the party we are introduced to many famous people, but wait! Some we know. Harry Howard, cartoonist, for the Larry Nosich cartoon production and Martha Dworek who is presently appearing in the Roller Derby. It was a delightful party, and exhausted but happy we returned to the hotel to start our long journey home, well satisfied with the accomplishments of the Class of "55".

The final vision and melody fade and the future of the Class of "55" is now behind us.

Off We Go

As coach of our team, Mr. Ghetian had another successful season. His team had a record of six wins and three defeats. After eight seasons of being head coach, he finally defeated the McKeesport Tigers which no other Glassport coach had been able to do in the past fourteen years. We, the seniors, wish him and his future teams success in the coming seasons.

Glassport pulled a surprising upset by beating the McKeesport Tigers for the first time in fourteen years.

Glassport received the opening kickoff and returned it to the 30 yard line. They made it to the McKeesport 2 yard line in 8 plays where Lokash went over for a T.D. The conversion was no good. At the end of the first quarter the score was 6-0, Glassport.

In the second quarter the Glads drove to the McKeesport 10 but were held by a strong Tiger line. The score at half time, remained 6-0 Glassport.

McKeesport received the kickoff and ran it back to the Glassport 40. There they fumbled and Carl Zaleski recovered. The Glads drove to the McKeesport 30. Then substitute halfback, Richie Lucas, scooted around left-end for the T.D. Carl Zaleski made the conversion good. The score at the end of three quarters was 13-0, Glassport.

In the fourth quarter both teams played a good defensive game. The final score was Glassport 13—McKeesport 0, the biggest upset of the season.

The first home game of the season had a capacity crowd with the game going to Clairton by the lopsided score of 58 to 13. Glassport had most of the fight knocked out of them in the first few minutes of the game and never quite got back on their feet.

Gossip, Exchange, News, and Humorous articles were written and then transferred to the famed pages of the Hy-Lyf.

This year's editor-in-chief was Jean Fabry. Mr. Rulofson, who was the advisor, is a brand new addition to the teaching staff of Glassport High School.

Library Assistants

The Library Club, directed by Mr. Ruloff S. Rulofson, worked hard throughout the year striving to keep the books, magazines, and pamphlets in proper order to further your enjoyment of these facilities.

Their main activity was a trip to Oakland, where they visited the Carnegie Institute Library, Carnegie Tech, and the University of Pittsburgh. Other trips, on their schedule, were to the Duquesne Library and some of the large city high school libraries.

Under the direction of Mr. Darwin Mihoces, the Hi-Y has completed another very successful year. The club is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. Many activities are carried on by the club, such as skating parties, swimming parties, basketball games, bowling, and a dance with the Y-Teens. These boys work hard and are a credit to the school.

Dramatic Club

A school is not complete without a Dramatic Club and Glassport High School is no exception. This year, as in the past, the Dramatic Club worked very hard to make their two annual plays successful; however they also had time for fun—one of the highlights of the year being the party. The officers were Helen Conomos, President; Russell Walters, Vice President; Aileen Ginevan, Secretary; Thelma Stout, Treasurer; with Miss Payne as advisor.

Mixed Chorus

Under the baton of Mr. Quadraccia, the chorus united with the band to present their annual musicale entitled "Melodic Caravan." Everyone enjoyed this presentation, and the chorus members had the satisfaction of a job well done.

Standing: L. Marshall, Mr. Abbruzzese, T. Hoberg.
Seated: F. Roberts, T. Cindric, T. Chadwick.

MR. ABBRUZZESE'S ASSISTANTS

These juniors volunteered their services in order to relieve Mr. Abbruzzese of the tedious everyday tasks of the chemistry lab. Besides helping to prepare the various solutions for chemistry experiments, these boys also kept the laboratory in good condition.

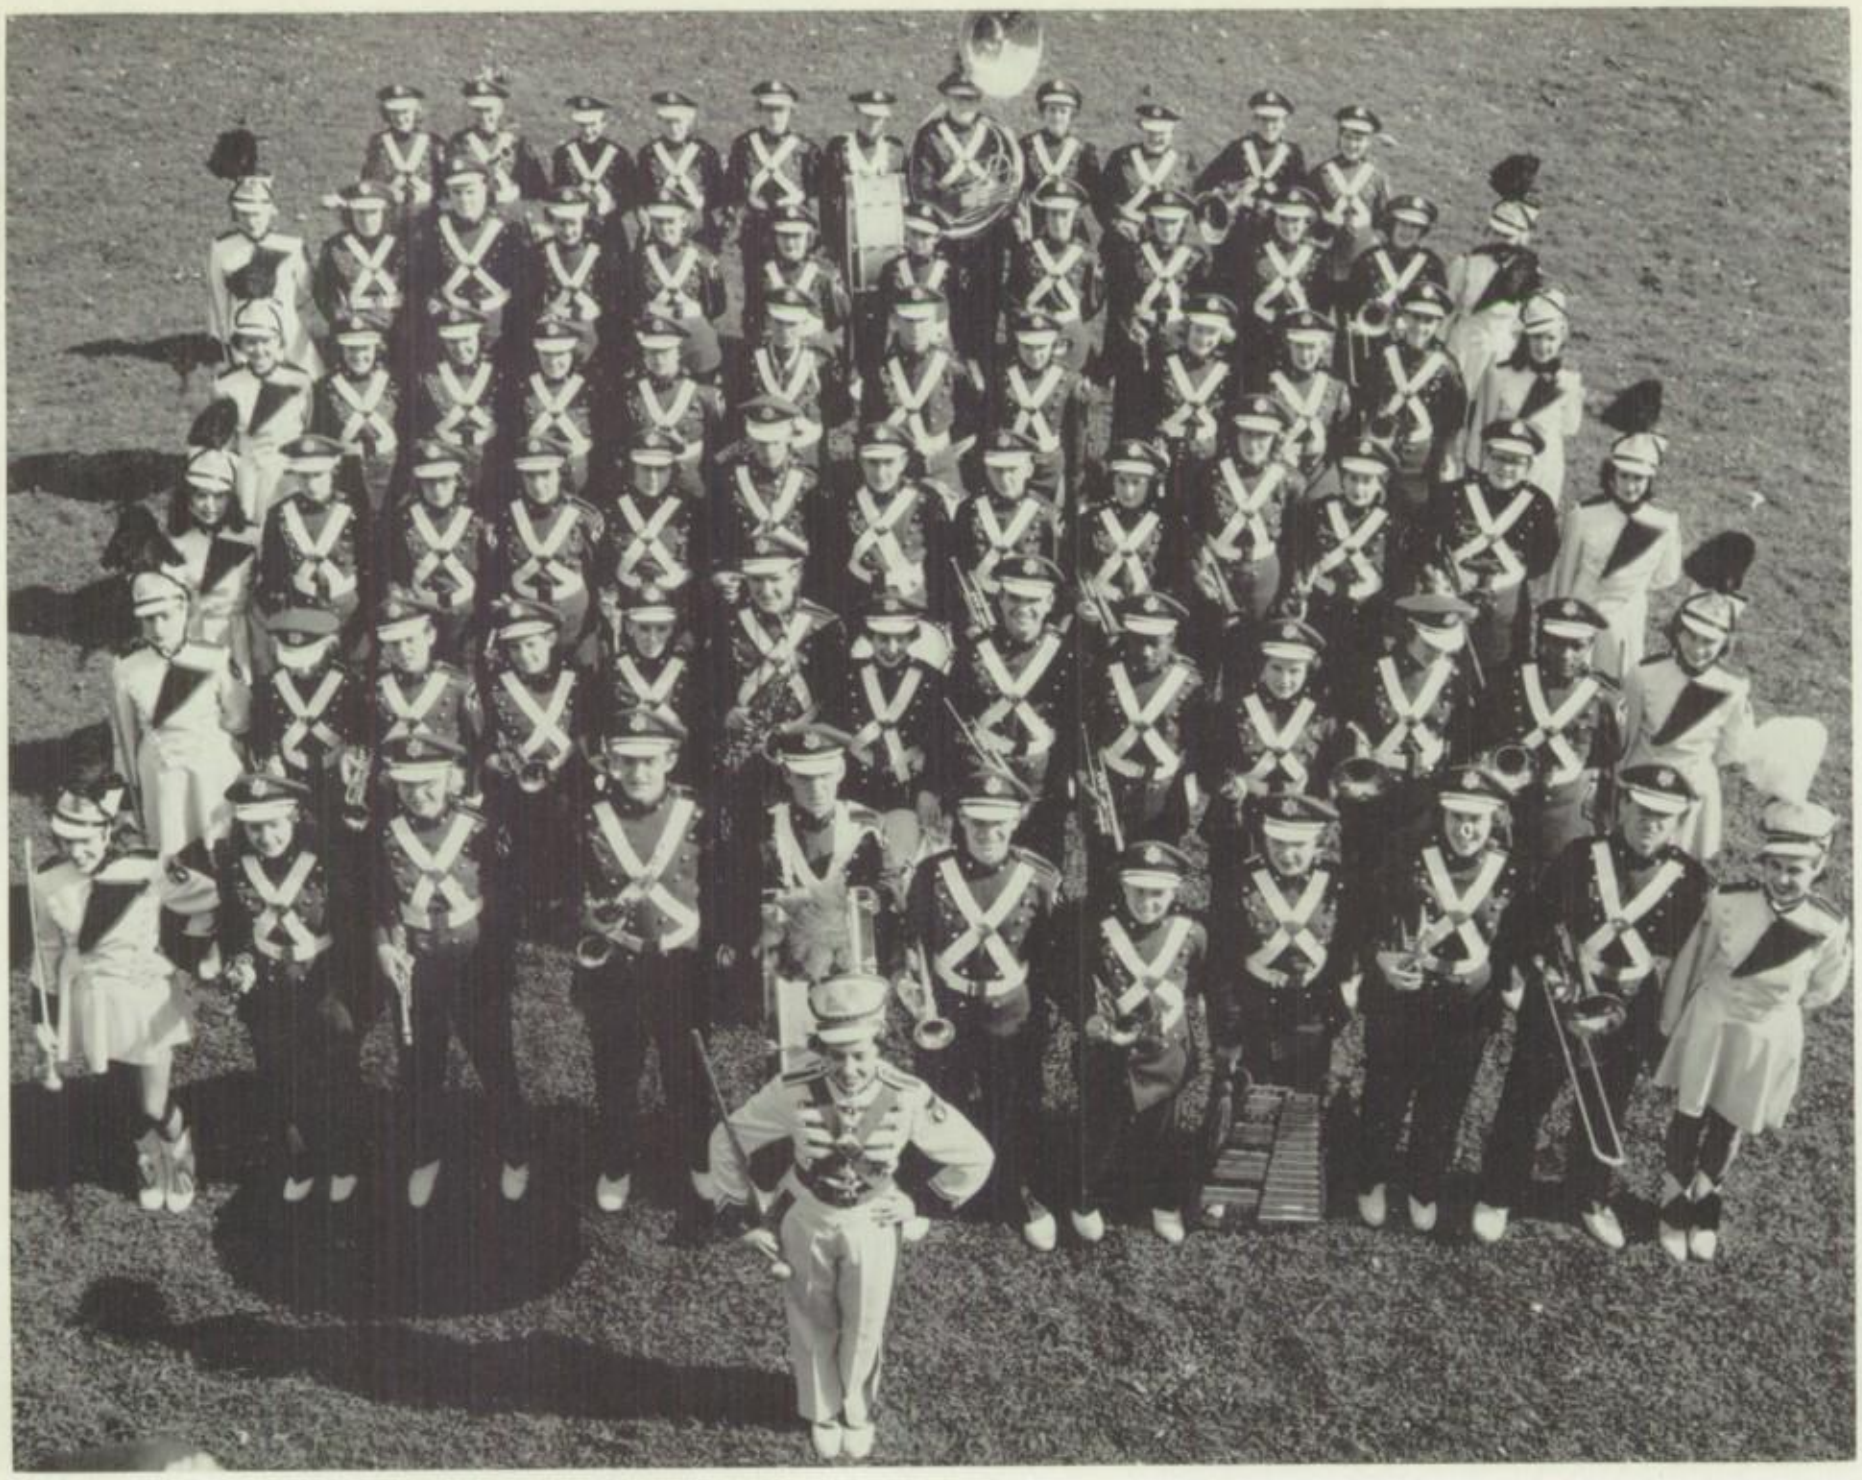
C'mon Get Happy

Our Friend



Band

Glassport High Band has proved this year that it is "the best." With new uniforms purchased last fall, the snappy band strutted through its pace as never before.

Mr. Quadraccia has worked innumerable hours perfecting the half time shows and snappy steps, along with the music. The band has grown, and with it has grown the admiration of all its members for "Quad." His latest innovation was adding a drum major, Dorothy Moonis.

The band joined with the Senior Mixed Chorus in February to present the Musicale.

Majorettes

Present at all games and parades are our high strutting majorettes led by Mildred Ditter.

The other majorettes include: Seniors, Margie Price, Helen Nolfi, Shirley Yesenski, Judy Kass, and Vickie Majzer; Juniors, Arlene Shuster, Margie Burton; Sophomores, Irene Sherman, and Frances Stein.

This year as they marched, they were attired in new black and white uniforms, which added a splash of color to their various routines.

Third Row: A. Papernick, B. Kaltenbaugh, A. Wilks, J. Mort, R. Walters.
Second Row: Mr. Quadraccia, M. Bartels, M. Ditter, D. Scklan, A. Uhlig, A. Ginevan, V. Majzer, S. Yesensky, M. McHolme.
First Row: B. Kadar, G. Svatz, R. M. Pasinski, A. Tudek, M. Price, J. Kass, H. Nolfi, J. Domerat.

Quad's Seniors

"Quad's Seniors," the students who for four years, more or less, have played an active part as band members, majorettes, and cheerleaders, are many this year, and so will not be soon forgotten.

They have known "Quad" longer and better than any other students, and have the greatest admiration for him. Our heartiest congratulations to a group of deserving students.

Color Guards

This year the color guards who led the band in all the parades and at football games were attired in new uniforms of red and white.

They not only serve a useful purpose, but help to add a touch of color to the band.

The color guards are composed of: Senior, Audrey Uhlig; Juniors, Mary Ann Churay, June Hornfeck, Susan Davis; and Sophomore, Carmen DeVerse.

Cheerleaders

The student body of Glassport has entrusted its cheerleaders with the job of building a potentially powerful force which can inspire teams to victory.

This colorful group led by Annette Tudek, consisted of Juniors, Claudia Belkowski, Thelma Angelo and Geraldine Burkley; Sophomores, Joanne Rattani and Janice Zabroski.

Strictly Formal

The Dramatic Club's 1954 spring presentation was Strictly Formal. The plot dealt with the problems facing Jane Cutler and her best friend Sally as they tried to obtain dates for the Prom. Matters were further complicated by the arrival of Jane's country cousin, Cindy Collins. This amusing comedy was enjoyed by all.

Man Alive

For their 1954 fall presentation the Dramatic Club chose "Man Alive", an intriguing story about twin brothers, Gordon and George Crane. After a robbery was committed, the police had a difficult time trying to determine which twin was guilty. The play kept the audience agog with unexpected thrills and surprises right up to the final curtain.

Third Row: M. L. Williams, A. Jakubek, A. Pasinski, G. Holstein, M. James, G. Trumpe, B. Hayes, L. Randolph.

Faculty Secretaries

The faculty secretaries have continued the responsibility of office work and have put forth an effort to keep the high prestige which has always been one of their characteristics.

As the year ends, we should all think back and appreciate the way they have endeavored to fulfill their duty to prepare themselves for the new life they are about to enter in the business world.

James Nolfi headed the group and his fellow officers were: Vice President, Frank Martinko; Secretary, Mary Lou Williams; and Treasurer, Jack McCullough. Mr. LaFrankie organized and advised the club.
